GOODBYE

I sit alone and wait for her tonight
I just want to hold her tonight
Still she says she loves me now
Still I get the runaround and - she goes
Alone tonight

She don't know right from wrong
It seems to me
Feelings when they are so strong
They cripple me

That's why we have to say goodbye
I sit alone and wonder why
She didn't even want to try
That's why we have to say goodbye

Now the story must go on just the same
Somehow she'll find a way to shift the blame
Still she says she loves me now
I pick myself up off the ground - now I go
Alone tonight

She don't know right from wrong
It seems to me
Feelings when they are so strong
They cripple me

That's why we have to say goodbye
I can't believe that you would lie
Those things you said they made me cry
That's why we have to say goodbye
